Superintendent, Director

TO THE SENIORS:

I cannot write of my best wishes for the future of the Class of 1969 without remembering the Spring day in 1967 when you boarded a bus at the door of Brockton Trade, said a final good-bye and travelled to your beautiful new regional vocational-technical high school.

During two full years at the new school, your class has helped significantly in getting things started. You helped establish our student council, our athletic programs and many other activities.

It is my sincere hope that the wonderful experience which we have all shared together will contribute to our own future as good citizens of our country and the world.

Very best wishes,

Donald E. Graves
Superintendent Director

. . . and a new school is born. But, is it Really? More is required to turn this physical plant into a school. It takes people.

A school must have purpose, direction and most of all — it must have feeling. At Southeastern, education is more than sitting in a class. It is being part of a whole. It is belonging.

It requires a special type of person to create this atmosphere. The Senior Class of 1969 dedicates the first edition of S.E.R.V.I.S. to two men who have been instrumental in creating the Southeastern way, Mr. Donald E. Graves, superintendent-Director, and Mr. Ralph G. Bumpus, Assistant-Director.

Assistant Director

To the Class of 1969:

Congratulations Seniors! It has been a pleasure to work with you from the day that your new school opened. The willingness of the members of this class to assume positions of responsibility, to give leadership in the creation of a strong school spirit, to establish a firm base upon which the classes of the future may build, will set a precedent for classes of the future. Best of Luck.

To the Class of 1969:

Never before has the American way of life been as complex or demanding as it is today. The rapid scientific, economic and social changes which we are experiencing require that we develop ourselves intellectually as well as physically to meet these demands.

As graduates of S.R.V.T.S. you may face this challenge with confidence in both yourself as well as your vocation.

Please accept our best wishes for your every success and happiness in the future.

The first edition of Vo-Tec was on the stands late this year, the reason being that a quality newspaper always takes longer to produce. Under the watchful eyes of Mr. McConnell and Mr. Borden, every story was carefully edited to perfection.

While the staff gathered stories sought out by editor Larry Moore, layout editors Gerard LaPierre and Charles Kelly set up the general format of the paper. All the people who worked on it agree that it was very interesting and informative.

"Another harpoon into The Whale's defense"

The Varsity Basketball team had tough sledding throughout the winter campaign and compiled a record of four wins and fifteen losses, but strong team play enabled the Hawks to finish with hopes of better things to come next year.

Highlights were the outstanding team performances in wins over rival Blue Hills and Bristol Aggies. Individual standouts were: guard Jack Principe, who averaged 13 points per game, captain Wayne Holt, the team's leading rebounder who averaged 12 points per game and steady defensive work by Jimmy Lindberg, Fred Yaitanes, and Dick Cotter.

Junior Varsity Basketball

With the opening game just two weeks away, thirty-five hopeful candidates reported for J.V. basketball tryouts. This group was soon narrowed to fifteen and the team began to practice hard for its twenty game schedule. With the exception of two boys, all the players were new to the squad. A lot of time was spent on fundamentals and developing the teams offensive and defensive attack.

Although the season was a disappointing one in the sense that the team lost more games than they won, the boys can be proud of themselves because they were in there hustling all the time.

James Burns – Strong, fights for the ball.
Richard Carey – Tall, plays defensive center well.
John Carter – Sparked the team against Stoughton.
Robert Casey – Good defensive guard.
Donald Drew – Cagey, can hit from outside.
Daniel Fahey – Tall, good rebounder.
William Freitas – Tallest on squad, has come a long way.
Carl MacDougall – Good all around player, hustles, 32 points against Blue Hills.
Robert Marley – Welcome addition, drives to the basket.
Frederick Miller – Quick on defense.
Michael Moriarty – Rebounds well, scored winning basket against Blue Hills.
Edward Schill – Accurate shooter, moves well.
William Thurber – Good hands, has learned a lot.
Thomas Young – Hustler, makes the team go, good free throw shooter.

Track

Spring track of 1968 saw a season commence with a team that had no experience but much courage and optimism. Southeastern's victories were against comparable schools such as Blue Hills and Bishop Connolly. The defeats were at the hands of teams from established schools such as Hingham, Hanover, Rockland and Holbrook. However, success should not be measured by wins and losses, but by the constant improvement of all the boys.

Cross Country

Led by Bob Parsons and sophomore Tom Whalen, the 1965 Varsity Cross Country Team posted the best record of Southeastern's athletic groups as they defeated five of their opponents losing only to Taunton and Martha's Vineyard in league competition.

The team defeated Blue Hills, Bristol Aggies, Bishop Connolly, and Somerville. Against Bishop Connolly Parsons set a new school and course record for the two and two-tenths mile.

In the Southeastern Mass. Conference championships, Coach Dave Balch's team placed second as Parsons set the pace for the Hawks finishing in fourth position.

Other consistent scorers throughout the season were: Bob Todd, Dick Martin, Dale Backstrom, Captain — Ken Theriault, Bill Dalton, and Steve Blodgett

Front Steven Blodgett, Joe McMahon Back Robert Todd, Fred Miller, Tom McNamara, Ken Theriault.

Baseball

For a team consisting of mostly freshman and sophmores playing against a schedule where half of their opponents were varsity ballteams, the 1968 southeastern Baseball team record of 7 wins and 8 losses must be considered a success.

Strong defensive play with spotty but timely hitting was a prime reason for a good first season.

Special merit must go to MacNamara whose pitching was outstanding throughout the year. Tom will be with us for two more years and should become one of the outstanding schoolboy pitchers in the area, if not the state.

Highlights of the year include an extra inning game with Somerville Trade which featured a long home run by Joe Dinunno to a 13–8 slug-fest win over Norton. This demonstrated that we do have strong hitting potential. Needless to say, we are expecting big things for the "69" seaon. =30=
